

Sarab : a novel /

Alim, Raja,
autor

Hoopoe, an imprint of the American University of Cairo
Press,
2018

Arabic fiction

Novels

Thrillers (Fiction)

Novels

Monografía

"November 1979. Violence has broken out in the holiest site of Islam after a charismatic rebel and his devoted followers have announced the coming of the Mahdi and seized the Grand Mosque in Mecca. Among the insurgents is a young woman, Sarab, disguised as a man. As the horror and chaos of the siege reach their peak, she escapes and encounters a French officer from the opposing side. They form an unexpected bond, as hostility turns to attraction, but the violence of both of their pasts will return to haunt them"--Back cover

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMjQ3MDM1ODI>

Título uniforme: Sarab. English

Título: Sarab a novel Raja Alem ; translated by Leri Price

Editorial: Nueva York Hoopoe, an imprint of the American University of Cairo Press 2018

Descripción física: 314 p. 21 cm

Lengua: Traducido del inglés al árabe

ISBN: 9789774168765 paperback) 9774168763 paperback)

Materia: Mahdi- Fiction Muslim women- Fiction Suspense fiction Narrativa(Arabia Saudí)

Materia Geográfica: Mecca (Saudi Arabia)- Fiction

Autores: Price, Leri, traductor

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es