"The 3D Garage.com Cinema 4D Signature Courseware teaches you all you need to know to get started using this amazing software for modeling, animation, and rendering. In over 10 hours of video training, you'll learn the basics and then move on to learn parametric and polygonal modeling, the robust, high-end material system, animation, rendering, effects, and more. This all-in-one training course is project-driven which means you're not sitting through hours of demos, but rather, high resolution videos that don't just show you the software, they teach you. Learn from 3D veteran Dan Ablan who has taught thousands of 3D artists on products such as LightWave and modo, through his numerous books and videos"--Resource description page (viewed Jan. 11, 2011)
