Analítica

In this work the argumentation phenomenon is investigated. This study is based on a combining perspective of the Linguistic, Rhetoric and Journalism from the interpretative newspaper report analysis point of view. The linguistic fundamentals have been development in accordance with J.C. Anscombe, O. Ducrot, V. Lo Cascio, J. Moeschler y A. Reboul, and J. Portoles.; while rhetoric or philosophic fundamentals have been evolve according to Aristoteles, L. Santamaría y M. J. Casals, and C. Perelman and Olbrechts-Tyteca. Two newspaper reports (El País and El Nacional) were used as corpusand the discourse analysis theories was employed as methodology. From the results obtained there is a straight forward evidence of the argumentative categories application with communicative intention. These uses are designed to apprehension of the subject newspaper report. It was observed a tendency to include data into parenthetic structures that potential the enunciated argumentative force
