Analítica

Reflection on the politeia in both great and local historiography has been mainly focused on continuity between the past and the present of the polis. This does not mean that historiographers excluded the theme of constitutional discontinuity (metabole politeion) from their works, but rather that they never used it to adopt a universal perspective to consider the processes of change in the social history of the poleis. Such a decisive development came about thanks to Aristotle's historical research in which the study of the politeia is put at the service of a new way of shaping the history of the polis (civic historiography)
