Analítica

Our country is crossed by a diversity of "Ways to Santiago", cultural routes, rich in a great variety of cultures, customs, architecture, traditions, languages, ethnography, that is, a huge cultural patrimony, a legacy with more than two thousand years of antiquity. Increasing its value, making aware of it to the local citizens in order to become aware, to notice, to estimate and respect this richness, in the main part the young people by programs of social voluntary works, involving not only the local authoritis but also the civil society, is a possible, achievable and factible test. Nowadays the involvement of the civil society, the citizens, seems to be essential. Preserving the human footprint through the ages and making a record of it for the next generations
