Analítica

Religious liberty is narrowly related with the covenant option or bilateral business relationship between the State and the different confessions. The Catholic Church has developed, even though is not expressly stated in its magisterium, the concordat option as a base to guarantee the freedom of worship, not only to the individuals but to the collectivity entity, just for the singular person can exercise freely the religion he or she like. So concordat doesn't look for defending a particular faith but the religious liberty, ensuring equal rights, in the diversity of religious ideologies. Thats it, without reducing anyone`s freedom
