Analítica

The objective of this research was to conduct a bibliometric analysis of the undergraduate and graduate research projects about problems of behavior in children and adolescents. This information was gathered in universities and colleges from Bogota (Colombia) from 2003 to 2013. Five expert judges validated an analysis index card that we designed which included the following variables: title, year, authors, directors, university, level of training, keywords, type of problem, type of research, age, and population. Altogether, twenty-one papers were analyzed corresponding to eight institutions in Bogota, where it was evidenced that in regard the level of training; undergraduate and master levels were those who mostly discussed this topic. Along 2010 and 2013, a large number of investigations on this issue were made and finally it was found that the population that was mentioned the most in the research projects was the adolescents
