Analítica

In Mexico, the violence has increased, more 47,515 deaths linked to organized crime and criminologists raided different crime scenes and outdated techniques. That is why we investigated the processing of the scene of conflict in northern Tamaulipas, using a documentary and field design consulting experts with experience in this area. 76% find it impossible to follow the methodology set and 64% adjust techniques. According to the results we know the risk, the magnitudes of the place and time have caused this situation
