

The archdaily's guide to good architecture : the now and how of built environments

Monografía

Whats best in architecture today and the most relevant for tomorrow by the worlds most visited architecture website.ArchDailys Guide to Good Architecture is their first-ever book. Curated around their principles of Good Architecture, the book is a curation of whats best today and most relevant for tomorrow. Through a rich variety of projects'both built and planned'the book reflects a global community of world-shapers, explores the most important topics and trends in architectural practice, celebrates the most visionary architects and introduces up-and-coming talent. It marks the forefront of architectural thought and practice.The cover image is Akihisa Hirata's Tree-ness House in Toshima, Japan

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhemF0ei5yZW4vMzI4NTc5MDk>

Título: The archdaily's guide to good architecture the now and how of built environments

Editorial: Berlin ; Gestalten 2022 2022

Descripción física: 320 páginas ilustraciones 36 cm

ISBN: 978-3-96704-064-7

Materia: Arquitectura moderna- Siglo 21. Arquitectura- Aspecto del medio ambiente Arquitectura- Aspecto social

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es