Analítica

After a long process, the project to create the region Ñuble (Chile) seems to be very close to materialize. Among its justifications is the situation lag relative presented in relation to the rest of the Biobio region, which is linked to the concept of territorial cohesion, defined as a condition that allows the territories to express their development potential and none of them is persistently marginalized. From the foregoing, the hypothesis that the future region presents a situation linked to lag indicated concept arose, so one of the main challenges will be precisely address this condition. The analysis it was concluded that the area actually presents a situation analysis lag compared to most regions of the country, however there are favorable conditions and opportunities from the project to address it
