Analítica

This article presents the results of a Systematic Literature Review of linguistic attitudes studies carried out in Chile between 2010 and 2020, to determine the main topics, the methodology used, the results, and if there is any gap in the literature. The review has been carried out in WoS, Scopus and SciELO databases through the descriptor Linguistic attitudes and has generated a total of 12 articles. It is concluded that most of the studies have been carried out in Santiago and under a direct approach; moreover, some interesting topics that have not been addressed are proposed here, such as the attitudes towards non-sexist language and the use of swear words
