Analítica

This paper seeks to show the functioning of the discursive operation for the establishment of discursive and ideological locations. A methodological model is proposed for the purpose of understanding how these places become a social bond marked by the hegemony of capitalist discourse. In a critical discourse analysis perspective, three epistemological bases are suggested as the foundation for our argument: first, the concept of ideology proposed by Louis Althusser; second, the four discourses differentiated by Jacques Lacan; third, a dialogue with the authors of the Brazilian tradition of discourse analysis, Eni Orlandi P. and Helena N. Brandão. This would be a methodology for the study of ideology and for the purpose of dismantling hegemonic discursive operations that oppress individuals belonging to certain social minorities in capitalist society
