Analítica

This research deals with the social construction of the Andalusian youth concerning the solidarity in practice from an integrative perspective of both attitude and practice. Thus the main aim of this research is focused on the description of the solidarity attitude and solidarity in practice of youngsters, who are considered to be a social construction. In order to achieve this aim, a qualitative methodology using interviews and discussion groups has been carried out. Furthermore a comparative analysis between the data obtained and the data from secondary sources was done via a methodological triangulation. As the main conclusion we stand out the influence that negative construction presents of young people in the moment of thinking and making solidary practices
