Analítica

The purpose of this paper is to analyse the determinants of financial literacy (FL) in Mexico, through its components: attitude, behaviour, and knowledge. An analysis of variance and ordered logit models were applied to the 2018 data from the National Survey on Financial Inclusion (NSFI). The results confirm that FL is low, a gender gap exists, and education is the factor that most influences FL in Mexico. These findings are useful in designing and implementing financial inclusion policies
