Analítica

The category labor in Marxist literature is revalued to the late publication of the so-called Economic and Philosophical Manuscripts of the young Marx. Among the various contemporary readings, Habermas made a critical interpretation of those writings rather philosophical-anthropological character and thus will reformulate the conceptualization of Labor. However, Habermas not abandon his interest in Marx and labor, will approach the phenomenon of "reification", but only taking back criticism that Marx developed in Capital, especially in exposing the commodity fetishism, with intent to reformulate in terms of a theory of communication
