Analítica

This paper presents an analysis of the evolution of the legal framework governing the electric service in Venezuela, between 2000 and 2010. From the first test of legislation presented in the Official Gazette 36791 of 21 September 1999, the first Law of Electric Service, develop the tools that have shaped the legal framework of the national electricity sector. In the Official Gazette No. 5568 (Special), December 31, 2001, was enacted the Organic Law of Electric Service (LOSE). In later years, initiates an evaluation of the management model established in the LOSE, which resulted in new legal instruments such as the Organic Law on Electricity Industry Restructuring in 2007, which created the figure of the National Electricity Corporation (CORPOELEC) and nationalized electric utilities, up to the creation of the Ministry of Popular Power for electric Power, the Emergency Power and the Organic Law of the electric System and Service. This paper discusses the main milestones of this process and the most important events that surrounded them
