Analítica

In this work we propose an approach to the history of the Zamorano Center of Buenos Aires, an entity that turned 100 years old in 2023. Firstly, we will review the origins of the institution based on a brief review of the characteristics of the Zamora colony and its actions in pursuit of the associationism typical of Spanish migrants in general. We will then focus on the ways of recovering and replenishing collective memory, focusing our analysis on a series of memory events of which we highlight a series of exhibitions where various objects acquire the theoretical thickness of testimony and artifact from their traces. We will dedicate a section to the place that traditional clothing occupies within this mnemonic configuration. Finally we will establish some conclusions in relation to the ideas presented
