

A mother's hope

/

Flynn, Katie

Family saga

Fiction.

Monografía

It is a dreadful November day; rain and sleet batter young Martin while he tries to hitch a lift to Liverpool. The coast road is deserted, and he shrinks further into his rain-soaked duffle coat. He hears a bus approaching but has no money, so when it stops to eject a weeping girl, then speeds away, he hurries to catch her up. Companions in misfortune, Martin and Rose slog on together. Each has a secret which neither wishes to part with and when they go their separate ways, they don't expect to meet again. But fate decrees otherwise

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhcmF0ei5yZW4vMzY4ODE4NzU>

Título: A mother's hope Katie Flynn

Editorial: [London] Arrow Books 2009

Descripción física: 1 online resource (468 pages)

ISBN: 9781446411018 electronic bk.) 144641101X electronic bk.) 9780099521747 0099521741 9780099521730 0099521733

Materia: Chance- Fiction Hasard- Romans, nouvelles, etc Chance. Social conditions.

Materia Geográfica: Liverpool (England)- Social conditions- Fiction England- Liverpool. <https://id.oclc.org/worldcat/entity/E39PBJtrRycHmWFfDdbbp9MT3>

Enlace a formato físico adicional: Print version Flynn, Katie. Mother's hope. London : Arrow, 2009 9780099521747 (OCoLC)276647607

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60
- informa@baratz.es