

Bulletin of zombie research.

Leppanen, Christy J.,
author

parody. Fiction. Parodies (Literature) Science fiction. Science fiction.
Science fiction. Parodies (Literature) Parodies.

Monografía

The Bulletin of Zombie Research uses robust research approaches to understand zombies and the systems where they have become integrated, forcing us to rethink our understanding of zombies by presenting data that is shocking, disturbing, and horrifyingly believable. It is a science fiction publication written in a deadpan style to humorously, but morbidly and with comparable detail, mimic real science

<https://rebiunoda.pro.baratznet.cloud:28443/OpacDiscovery/public/catalog/detail/b2FpOmNlbGVicmF0aW9uOmVzLmJhemF0ei5yZW4vMzY5OTUwNDk>

Título: Bulletin of zombie research. Volume 1 Christy J. Leppanen, Ph. D., editor

Editorial: [United States] Christy J. Leppanen Charleston, SC CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform [2014]

Descripción física: 1 online resource (182 pages illustrations)

Nota general: "A publication of the Society of Zombie Research and Management."

Bibliografía: Includes bibliographical references

Contenido: Documentation and potential consequences of alternative host-use by the monarch butterfly, Danaus plexippus L. -- ZOMBI encephalitis-associated increases in the germination and growth of four thistle species (family: asteraceae) -- Management of Canada thistle, Cirsium arvense (family: asteraceae), via administration of systemic aminopyralid in Homo sapiens -- Adaptations in alimentary canal structure in subjects with Zooanthroponotic Occult MetaBiomimetic Infectious Encephalitis -- Disease-associated scalp hair and follicular changes in individuals with Zooanthroponotic Occult MetaBiomimetic Infectious Encephalitis -- Newborn condition and complete blood count in pregnant human females infected with Zooanthroponotic Occult MetaBiomimetic Infectious Encephalitis -- Variations in Stage IV Non-Small Cell Lung Cancer five-year survival in patients with Toxoplasma gondii, meningioma, and Zooanthroponotic Occult MetaBiomimetic Infectious Encephalitis -- Evidence and implications of interZOMBIE communication

ISBN: 9781499576757 1499576757

Materia: Zombies- Fiction Zombies- Romans, nouvelles, etc Zombies.

Baratz Innovación Documental

- Gran Vía, 59 28013 Madrid
- (+34) 91 456 03 60

- informa@baratz.es