

Advérbios locativos em notícias jornalísticas: uma abordagem morfossintática [

2019

text (article)

Analítica

The locative adverb, in real situations of use, has properties that go beyond those provided in normative grammars. Thus, in this article, based on authors such as Neves, 2002, 2011; Castilho, 2014; among others, we present a description of the morphosyntactic behavior of this type of adverb, having as corpus news leads from the newspapers Folha de São Paulo and A Tarde. Starting from the hypothesis that the locative is influenced by properties such as mobility, form and syntactic function, we performed a quantitative analysis whose results confirmed its multifunctional behavior. The expectation is to expand descriptions that contemplate adverbs and to contribute to the teaching of this category.
