Analítica

The purpose of this article is to analyze the repercussion that Covid 19 has had on the population and on the economic reactivation of Ecuador, which is why it can be highlighted that the crisis that the pandemic has generated has had a strong impact on the conditions of life of Ecuadorians, mainly when facing the structural weaknesses of the health system that led to the loss of 35,942 lives, with special interference in the provinces of Los Ríos, Manabí, Pichincha and Guayas; Despite the fact that the government's priority has always been to stop the spread of the virus to avoid the collapse of the health service, it did not have the necessary resources to provide an immediate response to an unprecedented pandemic. For this reason, after the confinement measures imposed by the government, several companies could not cope with this situation and had to close their doors, generating a higher unemployment rate and decreasing their productive capacity, directly affecting their economy and the economy. of an entire country that was involved in a true crisis, which is why the country had to enter into a mass vaccination process, which has allowed a slow reactivation of various productive sectors by generating new opportunities for entrepreneurs, through the reform to the law
