Analítica

This paper intends to address the functioning of military justice in Argentina during the so-called "National Organization" of the second half of the 19th century. We will review the influence and survival of the Spanish military tradition together with the different modalities used by the military authorities to repress military crimes. Aspects related to the management of internal discipline and punitive practices applied within the units of the Army of the Line will be examined, together with the path of military legislation in Argentina at the end of the century
