Monografía

"You are Kellen Moore, the best pitcher at West Burbank High. It isn't your arm that makes you successful, but your cool head. You've always had an uncanny ability on the mound to tune out the crowd, the opposing team, and the pressure. Well, almost always. The state championship game forces you to revisit one moment when you let the pressure get the better of you-- an embarrassing day you'd rather forget. This time, can you make the choices that will help bring home the trophy for your team?"--Provided by publisher
